Michael Foreman, Painting with Rainbows is an original exhibition developed by Seven Stories, The National Centre for Children's Books in collaboration with Michael Foreman. The exhibition celebrates Michael's successful career and collaborations.

One of Britain's best known and internationally acclaimed creators of books for children and a multi-award winning author, Michael Foreman has been illustrating for children for over 50 years!

With original artwork on show alongside playful props and costumes, Seven Stories' exhibition explores Michael's storytelling, and imagines a world without conflict, that cares for our environment and celebrates the importance of friendship.
